

Michael Hallard

Michael joined the BEATS trustees January 2026 and has found the trustee camaraderie very satisfying! He first came to learn of BEATS through marrying Sarah Page's daughter, Emily, and has been a BEATS supporter ever since.

Michael & Emily live in St Albans and are loyal members of a local church, often leading worship on the piano. They have two children and enjoy often hosting both their own children and spontaneous visits from neighbours' children in their back garden.

Michael's career has been data, data, data: initially database design and development, followed by Operational Research including Decision and Data Science.
